Travel information

From Fiumicino Airport (Leonardo da Vinci Airport)

- By train

Leonardo Express Airport train

Inside the Airport Terminal you will find the local train which takes you directly to Termini Station in about 30 minutes. You will find Via Cavour on your left as you exit the train station. A 100 meters down Via Cavour you will find the Hotels. Cost of train ticket: € 14.00.

The Leonardo Express is simply the best (fastest and most comfortable) public transport transfer between Fiumicino Airport and Central Rome (Termini Station).

At Rome Airport the train station is well signposted within the passenger terminals. It's a 5-10-minute walk, but you've probably already walked a similar distance from your aircraft to baggage retrieval and customs.

The way is totally undercover using moving walkways and escalators/lifts.

Once at the Fiumicino Station there are ticket machines, the official ticket desk and three or four other independent outlets that all sell tickets for the Leonardo Express train.

Note: The station has three platforms and other local trains also terminate here. So do check which platform the next Leonardo Express train departs from, even if there is only one train in the station.

- By bus

TERRAVISION bus is one of the cheapest ways to get from Fiumicino to the city centre (Termini Station) in about 1 hour. Ticket: 4€ one-way.

SIT BUS Shuttle connects Rome Fiumicino Airport (Terminal 3) with Piazza Cavour and Termini Station in Rome. You can buy tickets on board the bus or online for 8€.

From Ciampino Airport

- By bus

Several companies of shuttle bus (ATRAL, Terravision, SitShuttle) connect Ciampino Airport and Termini Station, in the centre of Rome. There is no big difference between the service and the price (about 4-7 €) of each company.

If you land in Ciampino, the best option is just going to the square in front of the airport and buying the ticket of the bus which looks ready to leave. Booking the tickets of a specific company on line is not advisable and practically never convenient for the traveller.

However, if you arrive at the same time as a few other flights, you may face a wait of up to two hours regardless of whether there is a bus ready to leave or not. The queues can be long and the buses are not particularly regular, so it is up to you whether you choose this method or one of the others listed before.

From the Airports by Taxi

A fixed fare from airports to central Rome has been introduced: 48 Euros from Leonardo da Vinci / Fiumicino Airport and 30 Euros from Ciampino Airport. This price is for up to 4 people and their luggage, no extras should be charged. Beware of non official cabs, and take your white official taxi from the stand outside the airport arrivals. You will find detailed information in different languages on: www.comune.roma.it

From the Airports with a Chauffeur Driven Limo

If you wish to travel using a limo service you can book it in advance through the Hotel. Rates vary from 50 to 90 Euro, depending on the number of passengers, baggage and vehicle type.
